Responsive Logos

A responsive logo is the term given to a primary logo that exists in several, slightly different and easily scalable variations. As the area where the logo gets placed gets smaller the logo will simplify.
*(keep this in mind when printing ot embroidering)

LOGO RULES

In order to maintain brand consistency it is important not to alter the logos. Do not stretch or distort logos. When placing logos on media such as flyers social media posts watermarks etc. Aside from the brand's tag line, allow sufficient space in the surrounding area of the logos so that the logos have room to breathe. Placing items and information too close will cause the logo to loose its impact and independence.
